Career Technical Pathway
Business Administration AA

Today's business managers must be prepared to meet the challenges of a rapidly changing business environment. At UNM-Valencia, students are provided the opportunity to complete the first two years of a business administration curriculum in areas such as accounting, business computer systems, finance, human resources, marketing, and others. The advantages of beginning studies at UNM-Valencia include smaller class sizes and a team of instructors dedicated to teaching excellence.

Career and Educational Advancement Opportunities

This is intended to work both as a transfer and workforce degree. The curriculum has been developed to meet most of the admission requirements for UNM's Anderson School of Management. This degree can also be used as an introduction to the world of business, accounting, and finance. Students wishing to start their own business, manage an office, or be a bookkeeper may find this major helps them acquire needed skills. Those wishing to start their own business should also work closely with the Small Business Development Center at UNM-Valencia to prepare a business plan and raise needed capital. Internship opportunities are available to business students at UNM-Valencia. Business competitions also represent a great work-based learning experience.
